

TO HEAR HAUPTMANN PLEA

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 28.—Mr. Henry Ford has said foolish things in his time (as who hasn't?) but when he talks about labor and industry, production and prices, his words carry weight.

He was one of the first to defy NRA and now he is in the ring against AAA. He makes it clear that as a matter of economic fact crop restriction is basically wrong. That is financial racketeering and political bunk which result only in suffering and confusion of the farmers.

It isn't going to help the farmer to get scarcity prices, if as a consumer he must pay correspondingly more for everything he buys, and the consumer who isn't a farmer is licked from the start.

Meanwhile Mr. Henry Wallace announces a new drive against abundance, declaring that millions of acres must be shifted to grass.

Mr. Hoover once said this administration would cause grass to grow in the streets. He was wrong on the locality. If it has its way, grass will cover what were the grain fields of the nation.

Vera Stretz To Continue Her Story Monday

Will Resume Witness Stand In Trial For Death Of Dr. Gebhardt

SELF DEFENSE IS SEEN AS MOTIVE

Defense To Seek To Show Slaying Was Not Pre-meditated Crime

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Mar. 28—Vera Stretz, the college-bred blonde who fell for a married, middle-aged German business man, Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, and fired four pellets from an ugly black revolver into him, when their illicit romance crashed, steeled herself today for her re-appearance on the witness stand Monday when she will tell just why she did it.

She hasn't got to that part of her story yet but it was indicated on good authority that she will say she killed her teutonic sweetheart in a hand-to-hand death struggle over the gun while he was on the bed in his apartment on the twenty-first floor of fashionable Beckman Towers, clad only in his white nightshirt.

Between 150 and 200 Akron division employees of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will see nine of the division's veterans receive 50-year service buttons at the annual banquet of the Akron division's veterans' association at The Castleton tonight at 6:30.

Superintendent T. K. Faherty will come from Akron to make the presentations.

A special train will operate into New Castle late this afternoon, carrying a delegation from Painesville, O., and intermediate points.

There was practically no damage reported other than water backing into basements and about six inches of water on lowlying sections of some streets in the business district.

Some of the nearby river front highways were reported inundated slightly. The rise stopped about 1 o'clock this morning, with the level dropping about half an inch since that time.

Weather bureau officials said last winter's snows, melting at the Allegheny's headwaters was causing the rise. Light rain was expected to send the last of the snow into the tributaries of the Allegheny, but the Monongahela's headwaters were reported falling.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Mar. 28.—After reaching what was believed to be the highest mark since the floods of 1907 and 1913, the Allegheny river began to recede slowly here today. At the city pump house the reading was 22.2 feet. Another 1.8 feet would have flooded the pumps supplying the city with water.

Eighty Dead Is Flood Toll In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Flood waters that raged through Pennsylvania's principal river valleys last week took a toll of 80 lives, state officials disclosed today in the first complete report on the state-wide disaster.

Those injured during the floods numbered 2,822, according to the report, which was presented to Gov. George H. Earle by Col. A. S. Janeway, deputy adjutant general, while 50,730 residents of the state were reported to have lost their homes. Total dwellings destroyed aggregated 1,078.

Pittsburgh, reporting 31 fatalities, suffered the greatest human loss in the flood, and Johnstown was second with 16 deaths reported. Six lives were lost at Indiana, while five were claimed in Vandergrift, four in Kingston and Williamsport, three in Lewistown and Huntingdon, two in Wilkes-Barre and Windber, and one each in Sunbury, Clearfield and New Kensington.

A total of 158,893 persons were fed by relief agencies during the flood, and 46,981 were housed in concentrated camps. Homes damaged by the flood totaled 26,321, and 38,769 persons lost furniture and household goods in the swirling waters.

Satisfactory health conditions exist in all flood-stricken sections, according to the report, which listed only one case of scarlet fever in the state—Brackenridge. No cases of typhoid were reported.

New Castle's greatest Boy Scout merit badge exposition, formally opened last night by Mayor Charles E. McGrath, today continued to attract throngs of interested visitors to the showrooms of the Lawrence Auto Sales Company, temporarily converted into a colorful showplace of more than 30 educational scout exhibits.

The show continues until 11 tonight.

From the opening hour at 11 a. m. until this afternoon, crowds milled through the exposition mid-ways to watch the representatives of the various troops perform a variety of Boy Scout merit badge functions.

Mayor McGrath spoke to a good-sized crowd from the exposition platform just after the show had been opened to guests last night.

PLAN FOR SPECIAL SESSION

Committee To List Subjects

May 4 Is Agreed Upon As Date For Convening Of Session

SHORT SESSION HOPE OF LEADERS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Announcement of four Republican legislators to serve on a special committee of eight named to study possible subjects for consideration by the special session of the legislature in May was awaited today as preparation for the session went forward.

M. Harvey Taylor, state G. O. P. chairman, was expected to announce his party's selections for appointment to the committee. They will supplement the four already named by the Democrats for service on the group that will largely determine what items will be included in Gov. George H. Earle's call for the session, which has already been agreed for May 4.

Democratic members on the committee included Senators Edward J. Thompson of Centre county and J. Albert Reed of Washington county, and Representative Herman P. Eberhardt, Allegheny county, and Joseph D. Burke, of Philadelphia county.

Hopes For Short Session.

Although hopes for a short session of the legislature this spring were given a sharp jolt by yesterday's meeting here, when the May 4 date was agreed upon, the subjects to be considered by the legislators are expected to be sharply limited to those absolutely necessary. The principal item, it was anticipated, will be raising $70,500,000—the sum estimated by Governor Earle as necessary to carry the unemployment burden to the end of the year.

How that sum, and many others needed for emergency purposes, is to be raised was not discussed at the meeting. Motor or highway funds may be tapped to provide funds for direct relief but what new taxes will be sought was not decided.

HITLER ENDING HIS CAMPAIGN

Qualified German voters will go to the polls and mark their "Ja" in the space on the ballot provided for that purpose and none other opposite the large-type name of Adolf Hitler.

Mutilated ballots will not be counted. Moreover, the strongest pressure of the Nazi organization is being brought on all to vote, and an effective check has been provided in the distribution of certificates to qualified voters which must be surrendered later if not used.

Would Endorse More

Nevertheless there was no doubt among foreign observers that even with a free vote and fully secret ballot, there would be almost as large a patriotic outpouring to endorse Hitler's remilitarization of the Rhineland and scrapping of the Locarno treaty and, above all, the Fuehrer himself.

While all Europe waited anxiously for Tuesday to bring Hitler's "further proposals" for a quarter-century of peace, his stand throughout the plebiscite campaign that has carried him throughout the provinces has been the same as that affirmed at the Krupp Works in Essen yesterday.

"We will not yield an inch of German sovereignty," he said repeatedly, and further negotiations with Germany must be on a basis of full equality. He refused to make any symbolic gestures."

Speaking in Berlin, General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, air minister said: "If they think we will walk out of the Rhineland, they will have to wait until the end of the world.

"If Eden (British foreign secretary) thinks we are the same cowards as our predecessors, he is mistaken."

Civic Music Drive Dinner On Monday

Citizens' Group To Launch City-Wide Membership Campaign

Organization plans for the membership campaign of the Civic Music association are nearing completion, and the response of the service clubs, women's clubs, teachers and various organizations today was described as splendid by Mrs. Barbara Schulz, president.

The membership campaign will open on Monday and a dinner that evening at six o'clock at The Castleton will mark the formal inauguration of the campaign. One hundred persons interested in the civic music project will attend the dinner meeting. Headquarters are in The Castleton and the telephone is Bell 2119.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, the organization chairman, calls attention to the fact that membership is open for the coming week only, and that only members will be permitted to attend the concerts. Memberships will be $5 for adults and individuals, $2.50 for individual student memberships. Special rates will be announced for organized musical groups of the schools.

The list of chairmen reporting to headquarters so far and as yet incomplete are as follows: Miss Barbara Schulz, Mrs. Jay L. Reed, Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, Mrs. E. Kaplan, Miss Harriet Beadel, Miss Flora Ellen Martin, Mrs. Paris Shoaff, Mrs. Mabel Boyd, Mrs. Francis Colao, Mrs. Clifford Propst, Miss Ruth Woodworth, Mrs. John McIlwraith, Mrs. Irene Casillo, Mrs. Robert Fleming, Mrs. Earl Wimer, Dr. E. State Refund Given To City

Fees Paid For Workers Compensation Insurance Are Refunded

James L. Fink, finance director of the city reported today receipt of $3,821.00, from the state as a refund for the money paid on judgment rendered in federal court against the city growing out of the city's fight against paying the Elma Life Insurance company what the city believed an unjust rate for workers' compensation insurance on relief workers.

The company through McBride & Shannon agreed to accept a check for about $3,400 which saved the city interest during the time the payment was held up and the fight in court ended.

The money comes out of the state liquor fund. The state in 1933, appropriated $250,000 to pay back to cities, boroughs and townships any monies they had to pay insurance companies for increased insurance premiums for Workmen's compensation on relief workers, Solicitor White stated.

Wilson's Grandson

On the other hand, some authoritative opinion here holds to the belief that a second reprieve will be granted by the governor in spite of Wilentz's refusal to sanction it. This group believes the governor may take refuge in legal advice received from former Governor George S. Silzer and a score of attorneys. They have advised the executive there is a precedent for additional reprieves and have cited the action of the late Democratic governor, Edward U. Edwards, who reprieved a condemned prisoner for almost two years.

In view of Hoffman's repeated statements that he would not grant another stay of execution without Wilentz's consent and approval the attorney general's letter is interpreted as definitely sealing Hauptmann's doom.

CROWDS ATTEND THEATRE BENEFITS

Death by accident was the verdict of a coroner's jury hastily called after the demolished plane and the four bodies were found near here. Search by land and air had been conducted for two days.

The men, all of Phoenix, were:

attorney Harold A. Marks, 31, an executive of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Paul Swasey, 34, druggist; John Powles, 33, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and Paul Odneal, 30, airlines owner and pilot of the plane.

Dr. Bennett Reports

At the Penn theatre, where the local Musicians' union orchestra played under the direction of Harry Hammond, the audience heard a short report on Pittsburgh's rehabilitation work by G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church and the man who served as general chairman for the benefit shows. He had spent yesterday touring Pittsburgh's damaged triangle.

At three of the theatres the latest news pictures of disastrous floods were flashed before the eyes of the guests. They also saw fine feature pictures.

The street cars and buses were waiting for the 2 o'clock throng when the shows ended, just as New Castle Electric Street Railways officials had promised. Manning them were motormen and drivers who gave their services free of charge, and the fares collected on the trips will go to the Red Cross fund.

An innovation here, the mass benefit show idea seemed to win the fancy of the crowds. Everyone had a good time and the 50 cents each paid for admission was helping to boost a fund which Western Pennsylvania's flood-swept areas need.

The proceeds of the shows will be turned over to the Lawrence County chapter of the Red Cross as soon as possible and sent to the nearest point of distress.

Francis B. Sayre, Jr.

Looking strikingly like his grandfather, former President Woodrow Wilson, Francis B. Sayre, Jr., son of the assistant secretary of state plans to study for the ministry at the completion of his college course. Young Sayre is a senior at Williams College.

RUXTON AND HAUPTMANN

FOR every million persons in England there are fifteen murders in a single year. For every million in the United States there are eighty-seven murders. This great disparity may be explained in some degree by the heterogeneous character of this country's population, creating difficulties of law enforcement. Primarily, however, it is traceable to the unfailing efficiency with which English justice functions, compared to the slow and falter fashion in which the processes of justice in the United States move toward retribution.

The condition is emphasized by the case of Dr. Buck Ruxton, who cut up his wife and left her body in a ravine and who will be hanged at Manchester, England, on April 1, the day after the date set for the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Dr. Ruxton was picked up by the police September 13, 1935. His trial lasted eleven days and he will be hanged within two weeks after a jury returned a verdict of guilty. Hauptmann was arrested September 19, 1934, so that more than nineteen months will have elapsed from that time until his execution. More than a year has passed since his conviction.

Britishers are extremely reluctant to engage in murder and the reason lies in the fact that they realize there is every chance that their own lives will be forfeited. If this were the rule in the United States the records would not show 6,251 lives taken by murderers in a single year.

WHY EXEMPT PUBLIC EMPLOYEES FROM TAX?

If there is any one class of wage and salary earners that should pay federal income taxes it seemingly should be the very class that is exempt—state and local government employees.

If they are supported by the taxpayers, it is reasonable that they should pay a modicum of what they earn in order to help support themselves. Why should a clerk earning $25 a week be forced to give up $10.80 a year, if he is single, to help support his untaxed neighbor in a government position who is earning four times that much?

It just doesn't add up and it doesn't make sense. If these public employees were subjected to federal income taxes as are others, it would have the immediate effect of reducing the taxes the others have to pay who are not fortunate enough to be attached to a public pay roll.

THE COMPROMISE ON THE C. C. C.

The president's "about face" on his original proposal for a radical reduction of the C. C. C. surprises none except those who have not yet graduated from the political kindergarten. There was a congressional clamor for "economy" in new relief expenditures, the kind that would not imperil the fortunes of those up for re-election.

Well, if they wanted economy Mr. Roosevelt decided to give them a bitter dose surmises the Philadelphia Inquirer. He urged that the first whack be taken at the C. C. C., one New Deal enterprise on which huge sums have been expended, but in the general opinion, to good advantage. No one could have known better than Mr. Roosevelt the effect on congressmen who are about to face their constituents to tell why they should be sent back to Washington. Personally, he could have had little fear that congress would adopt his suggestion. Elimination of 700 C. C. C. camps would also have eliminated a lot of votes that were wanted.

And so a wonderful "compromise" has been effected. The 2150 camps will be maintained for another full year and there will be no wholesale cut to 300,000 members in the fall, but a gradual reduction to about 350,000. This will add $77,000,000 to the debt side of the budget. It was a grand gesture which Mr. Roosevelt made, but going through the motions of economy is far from the real thing. We have had such gestures before. There are better places to save than in the C. C. C., which has rendered valuable service in the depression.

PYMATUNING C. C. C. WORK

Reports from Washington that President Roosevelt has ordered maintenance of existing C. C. C. camps through most of the next fiscal year—if they can be relied upon during this season of political maneuvering—will be particularly pleasing to residents of the Pymatuning area where considerable anxiety has been expressed regarding the maintenance of the camp at Westford.

A good deal of money has been spent on the C. C. C. camp at Westford and there is an inestimable amount of work about the Pymatuning reservoir which could be done. Until recently, however, camp activities have been held to minimum and little constructive work has resulted. Even during the past few months when additional tools and equipment were provided, the work program has not been pursued very vigorously and noticeable results have been few indeed.

If the camp at Westford cannot be made to produce greater results—benefits commensurate with the expense it represents—it should by all means be removed. There is no sense in wasting public funds on the maintenance of such a camp, if it cannot be made to produce the work needed in that community.

We believe, however, that the camp is capable of performing the job for which it was established. There is work to be done at Pymatuning and, apparently, there are C. C. C. boys available who are willing and anxious to proceed when directed to do so. Now that there is presidential assurance that the C. C. C. camps are not to be reduced this year, we suggest that a concerted effort be made to stimulate the activity at the Westford camp and to demonstrate its real worth to the Pymatuning community.—Medieval Tribune-Republican.

Hitler's position is that of advocating a period of peace so that he can really get to work on the next war.

News has been breaking so rapidly of late that it hasn't been necessary to start a rumor that Postmaster General Farley is about to resign.

While righteous indignation twiddles its fingers in idleness the evil spirit gets a gang together and fights in mass formation.

A public speaker who weighs his words too metitiously is never popular with a mixed crowd. There is a suspicion that he is cheating.

The fabled hare and tortoise race has made more than one slow thinker contented to plod his weary way to success, while genius went to sleep.

HE WENT BACK TO IOWA
I'VE BEEN reading about Grant Wood and I learned something . . . Something I guess I've always known, but sooner or later you discover that whenever you learn something importantly new, it's almost always something you've known since you were born, but weren't sharp enough to put into words.

Grant Wood is a painter. I think he's a very fine painter. Some others don't agree, but he suits me, and that's all I care about. He lives in Iowa and paints threshing crews at dinner and plain old American homes, and whenever I see one of his pictures I say to myself: "This is real. This is what an American painter ought to be doing."

But he wasn't always that kind of a painter . . . He was born on a farm in Iowa and was born with a gift for line and color. He left the farm and "went out into the world to become a great artist." He worked his way through various art schools, "showed promise," won scholarships and at last achieved that heaven of all promising young artists—he went to Europe to study.

He became very snifty and precious, grew a wild beard, sat on the sidewalks in front of cafes, sent home letters all sprinkled with French phrases, decided that Iowa life was no life at all and joined a school of painters who called themselves neo-meditators . . . wait for inspiration . . . sit in a cafe with a glass of brandy in front of you . . . meditate.

But suddenly young Grant Wood realized that he never got an idea that way . . . "I realized," says he, "that all the really good ideas I'd ever had came to me while I was milking a cow. So I went back to Iowa."

So there's where he is now . . . He learned that Iowa was not only good enough for him, but ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY. And a cow isn't a pretty thing, but a cow for a young Iowa artist is as essential as she is for a young Iowa farmer . . . This story of Grant Wood may be good for what ails YOU.

BOOK FRIENDS
I vow to read them by and by.
But there upon the shelves they stand

A host of wiser men than I,
Waiting to come at my command,
And now and then while at my ease,
If suddenly I get the whim,
I can sit down with Socrates
And talk of life and death with him.

Or if I'm in a gayer mood,
To London I can promptly go
And sit me down and share the food.

Of people Dickens used to know.
A dozen poets I can boast
Who'll gladly sing their songs for me

If I decide to play the host
And ask them in for toast and tea.

An hour or two with Emerson?
Yes, that can be arranged all right.

Drop in when all your work is done.
I'll ask the old boy down tonight.
We'll fix our pipes and light the fire.

And let the merriment begin.
Sam Johnson? Yes, if you desire,
We'll go with Boswell to the inn.

And yet I wonder what they think.
These finer, wiser friends than I,
Who live by grace of printer's ink
And watch me coldly think them by.

What must these friends upon my shelves,
Who, thick with dust, untouched remain,
In sadness mutter to themselves
When I of loneliness complain?

Outbreak Of Rabies In State Is Termed As Worst In History

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 28—Pointing out the state is suffering "one of the worst outbreaks of rabies in its history," Gov. George H. Earle today upheld rabies quarantines established in certain sections of the commonwealth by the state department of agriculture.

Explaining he had received requests to modify quarantine for the holding of dog shows in quarantined areas and to permit dogs to leave such areas for exhibition elsewhere, the governor said he could not approve any lifting of quarantine restrictions in view of the seriousness of the situation.

"Human life is endangered," Governor Earle said. "There have been five deaths from rabies in Pennsylvania since the first of the year and these unfortunate victims have died in the most terrible agony. Public health is of paramount importance and where the lives of human beings are concerned there can be no exceptions to rigid enforcement of these quarantines."

The governor said Philadelphia had reported 100 cases of rabies while five cases and two victims had been reported in Bucks county; 28 cases and one victim in Montgomery county; 11 in Fayette; 11 cases and two victims in Schuylkill and six cases in Washington county.

Humorist Jabs Poor Sap Voters

Says Voters Do Not Vote

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—Strickland Gilligan, professional funny man, after dinner orator, daily broadcaster of political news by radio out of Washington, and immortal author of "Off again, on again, gone again, Flamin'g", was philosophizing apropos presidential years.

"Since," as he observes, "this is one—a year for what my smart friend Hank Mencken calls boobumping, when the saps get a work-out."

"Credibility will take the place of reasoning—and there will be no great struggle for supremacy between the two in the average 'mind.' I put 'mind' in quotation marks because I am kidding. Nobody uses any mind in a political campaign; that is, no voter does. He puts it away in moth balls at the sound of the first campaign gun. He opens his fish-like mouth and drinks in poison about one feller and determines to vote against the this-and-that such-and-such, dadgum him!"

"The theory that two men are running, one to be voted FOR is the rankest of horse-feathers. Nobody votes FOR anybody. He votes AGAINST somebody that somebody else, with a fish to fry and an axe to grind, has told the poor zany he ought to hate and vote against."

YOUR MIND'S MADE UP?

"Long before the campaign really sets in," continued Strick, who has had years of contact with party publicity, "the boys with the type-writers (and generous contracts to deliver votes via the propaganda route) begin fixing up what you are to believe against the teller you are to vote against. Your mind is made up for you, before you know it, in their dusty offices, with newspaper clippings piled to the ceiling."

"They are arranging it so that, even if you were inclined to think intelligently about public affairs (which, nine times in ten, you have no intention of doing) you won't need to do so."

"Not only that, they are toiling to make it impossible for you to think, by rubbing into your consciousness such a one-sided case that you will find it much easier to swallow it all, hook, line and sinker, than to think. So you swallow it, and, true to the tradition of the American voter, proudly refuse to think."

HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—A public hearing on milk marketing problems in the Erie marketing area today was scheduled by the State Milk Control board for April 8 at Erie.

Producers, dealers and consumers were invited to attend the hearing, which was called to consider these subjects: The one-cent discount on milk purchased at cash-and-carry stores, marketing committees, extension of area No. 7 (comprising the city of Erie and territory within three miles of the city limits), prices to be paid producers for class 1A and class 2 milk, and wholesale and retail prices of fluid milk, fluid cream and ice cream.

Alligator Skeleton Sent To College

(International News Service)

BEAVER FALLS, Mar. 28.—In answer to a request for an alligator skeleton made to Dr. Robert Clarke, vacationing in Florida, the Geneva College biology department recently received a live 6½ foot specimen of "alligator mississippiensis."

The animal will go on display at Science hall for a time before being dissected.

"Yes, this is the quadrennial field day," mourned Strick, "for hypnotists who cunningly substitute feelings and prejudices for judgment and intelligence."

"It is the time when we all impersonate the 'whiffenpoof'—the bird that flies backward, because, not caring a cuss where he is going, likes to glance rearward to where he has been."

"It is a year of exaggeration, hyperbole and tosh."

"No man ever was so great as his partisans represented him to be when running for office; none ever was as bad as represented by his opponents in a campaign year."

FACTS ARE PLAIN

"And all this while," reminded Broadcaster Gilligan, "we have, smack in front of the voters' be-dazzled eyes, facts that an intelligent six-year-old child can understand."

"There are men in public life who have behaved thus-and-so with regard to certain things pertaining to your pocketbook and mine, your health and mine, your happiness and mine, ever since their heads have been above the public horizon."

"Common sense tells us (or tries to) that these same men will go on, regardless of the promises they make, or hire somebody to make for them, working in the same general direction."

"Once a public polecat, always a public polecat."

"Once a good safe man, always a good, safe man."

"The leopard can and will change his spots long and frequently before a politician will behave in a way contrary to his basic nature—and, maybe, contrary to the orders of those who, if any, pull the strings on him."

HUMORISTS OPINION

"If the voters of this country concluded Strick, "were to begin doing individual thinking, using the common sense that the Lord gave them; if ever they were to do this, instead of acting like a flock of sheep, bleating along the tail of a crooked-walking bell-wether, or (as some ranches) behind wily old billygoat, trained to lead them to the slaughter pen, the millennium would dawn so suddenly as to send us all scuttling for 10-store smoked glasses."

"Talk about unemployment! That portion of the human skull just north of the ears and back of the eyebrows is the scene of almost continuous unemployment. We have brains, but (ye gods!) how we hate that such-and-such, dadgum him!"

"The theory that two men are running, one to be voted FOR is the rankest of horse-feathers. Nobody votes FOR anybody. He votes AGAINST somebody that somebody else, with a fish to fry and an axe to grind, has told the poor zany he ought to hate and vote against."

"The average citizen of a republic, by the time he has been worked up like a piece of putty, by an expert propagandist, would rather be buried at the stake with green wood on a rainy day, than think."

"People commit suicide rather than think."

"Well," queries Strick Gilligan, "what are you and I going to do about it? Think, or act naturally? Be lonely and intelligent, or be dumb and have plenty company?"

Not to mention committing suicide.

Milk Marketing Hearing Called At Erie, Penna.

Touching Scene From "The Holy City"

A scene from "The Holy City," to be presented by Scottish Rite Bodies of the Valley of New Castle for John the Baptist, in the court of Herod, bids farewell to his mother. In the picture are Salome, Caina, Phasias, Herodias, Longenus, John the Baptist, Elizabeth, Marius, Herod and Malchus.

With some of the finest talent to John and the teachings of Christ, performs her death dance before the King. Herod filled with wine and importance offers her a boon even to half his kingdom, whereupon, on the counsel of her mother, Herodias, she asks for the head of John the Baptist on a charger.

Those who have seen the re-hearsals say that it is greater than Darius, which made such a hit when produced here last spring by the Consistory players. A small admission charge is to be made to cover the actual expense of the production.

John the Baptist appears in the play as a forerunner of Christ and in the course of his admonitions to Herod, charges him with the sin of having taken his brother Phillip's wife, Herodias, for his own. This infuriates Herodias, whom John calls a sinful concubine, to the point that she conspires with the willing Caiaphas, whom John has labeled as a "false priest," and they demand his life. Salome, Herod's step-daughter, who fears she will lose Marius through his devotion to the cries and demands of the mob and surrenders him to the Jews for the Crucifixion. In this scene occurs the three denials of Christ by Peter and the crowning of the cock, reminding Peter of his infidelity.

Intensifying the drama, is Salome's killing of her lover, Marius at the Joppa Gate, mistaking him for Andrew, whom she has set out to kill. Before her own death, on the same spot, she renounces her mother, Herodias, condemning her for her part in the slaying of John the Baptist and for the loss of Marius. At this time Elizabeth reminds them of her prophecies of doom and, failing in her efforts to save him, prophesies the dire punishment which would fall upon the participants in the crime, and even calls down the curse of leprosy upon one Barannah, a leader of the enemies of the Christ.

With the passing of John, events are rapidly focused upon the Carpenter of Nazareth, who comes up to Jerusalem to attend the passover. A scene is devoted to the bargaining between Caiaphas and Herod is vividly pictured in another scene. The play comes to a climax with the tableaux of the Crucifixion and the Ascension. The Christ, in person, does not appear on the stage except on the cross. His presence is indicated through an arrangement of lights.

bergh child, more than a year after conviction, it appears probable that Bruno Hauptmann will pay the penalty, early next week.

THE OTHER "CASE" is a young woman, Vera Stretz, who shot her friend, Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, in front and in the back. The jury contemplates the "rose crepe nightgown which she wore going to and from room 2114," where the killing was done; it sees and hears the rattling of revolver shells from which the bullets were sent.

Her lawyers say she was defending "her honor." The prosecution says it was a little late for that, and she must die.

If you doubt that we are a primitive race, consider that there is more New York public interest in two criminals, than in all the scientific, artistic, literary and political news.

But, if the same criminal fails to divide his gains with the government, in accordance with income tax laws, THEN he can be caught and IS caught. How do you explain that?

TWO JAPANESE are killed on the Russian-Japanese border of Manchukuo. Japan says it is Russia's fault. Russia says 50 Japanese invaded her territory.

Two more or less killed, make little difference to Japan or Russia, but national pride makes much difference. Something unpleasant seems certain to happen somewhere on the surface of this troubled earth.

MIDDLESEX NAMES CENTENNIAL LEADERS

WEST MIDDLESEX, Pa., Mar. 28.—Burgess B. L. Tinker was elected chairman of the general centennial committee, J. A. Walker, treasurer, and H. G. In addition, five thousand millions are spent for absolutely fraudulent lottery tickets that never pay ANY prizes.

A discussion of tentative plans for the 100th anniversary of the founding of West Middlesex, to be held this spring, occupied the attention of those present.

William J. Dix, aged 56, of 717 Chestnut street, an employee of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, was found dead in the alley back of his home about 7 o'clock this morning, by Charles Jameson, of County Line street. He had shot himself through the head with a .38 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Dix stated that her husband had been ill for the past week and had been very despondent. He left home last evening to attend a meeting of the Odd Fellows Lodge. About 12:30, she stated that she had heard a shot in the rear of their home, but did not associate it with her husband's act, and so did not investigate.

This morning, Mr. Jameson noticed Dix's body in the alley in the rear of his home, near the garage on the rear of the Dix lot, and investigating with a neighbor, discovered that Dix was dead. He notified police. Officers Howard Richards, Kennedy, and Showalter, responding. They summoned Coroner Orville Potter, who pronounced Dix's death as suicide.

Mrs. Dix was the son of Joseph and Hannah J. Dix, deceased, and had resided here for the past 23 years, coming here from Beaver county. He was a member of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, I. O. O. F. and U. A. M. Junior Order.

Services will be conducted by I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 195, Sunday evening at 7:30.

GOVERNOR LEHMAN, of New York, borrowing an idea from the national government, asks for "teeth" in the state income tax law, to help him catch racketeers criminals. In this enlightened country, when a criminal commits merely murder, exploits vice, practices robbery, the community seems unable to protect itself.

But, if the same criminal fails to divide his gains with the government, in accordance with income tax laws, THEN he can be caught and IS caught. How do you explain that?

GROVE CITY, Mar. 28.—Grove City National Guardsmen, averaging 80 men, on flood duty at Johnstown, may get orders to leave for home any day. Captain Frank Poehlman and Lieut. The 112th Regiment is the only outfit still on duty, and it is believed that when the regiment is ordered home, one battalion will be left in Johnstown for a short time.

All the local men are in good health, with a few cases of common cold as the only items on the sick report. Besides serving in their regular capacity as communications units of the regiment, the two local companies are also doubling on guard duty, to prevent looting.

Lawrence County Endeavor Union Has Large Rally

Dinner And Rally Takes Place Last Evening At First Presbyterian Church

NEW OFFICERS ARE FORMALLY INSTALLED

All roads on which Lawrence County Christian Endeavor members travelled Friday evening led to the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, where a fellowship dinner and spring rally was in progress.

Delegations attended from churches in all parts of the county, and it was one of the most successful rallies the union has ever had.

The dining room was arranged to represent an Indian village. Seated at the tables were Indian chiefs, squaws, and on the walls large panels emphasized the scheme of decorations, with picturizations of Indian customs and manners.

Dinner Program.

Miss Geraldine Fry was toastmaster and the following dinner program was presented:

Indian love songs, led by Louise Davies; solos by Mrs. Martha Lawton and Margarette Hess, with Miss Helen Ewing at the piano.

Instrumental music by a boy's trio from Mercer county, Jack Klinge, violin; Charles Rufo, mandolin; and Joe Anker, accordion.

Rev. D. C. Schenbly, pastor counselor, gave the invocation. Two Intermediate Christian Endeavorers from the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, Lenora Christy and Dan Schenbly, with Mrs. H. C. Horcher at the piano, favored the group with a sacred song.

An Indian skit, "Walking Slow," was presented under the leadership of Louise Davies, with Leyshon Coughlin, Isabel Price, Margaret Thomas, David Price and Jack Meching.

Some of the "big chiefs" and "squaws" were Miss Theodore Pollock, retiring president of Lawrence county; Genevieve Bartholomew, president of the northwestern district; Franklin Montague, western district president, and Warren G. Hoopes, state secretary of Christian Endeavor.

Miss Pollock Presides.

At the evening meeting which followed dinner, in the Sunday school room, Miss Theodore Pollock presided. Truly the splendid attendance was a tribute to the fine leadership of the retiring president. A special feature of the evening was the music by the young people's vested choir of the Central Presbyterian church under the leadership of Prof. Robert Duff. This chorus is comprised of 25 voices with Miss Helen Ewing at the piano.

Dick Pugh, chairman of the host church committee, was in charge of the devotions, and Rev. King Kerr of the Volant and Rich Hill Presbyterian churches offered the evening prayer. Rev. Lester Case, musical superintendent of the western district, presented a male quartet from Indiana county, members of which were Hubert Reed, Sheldon Ball, Gabriel Rec and Lester Case. These men tell of the gospel in songs. During the closing numbers and installation of officers for the county, Warren G. Hoopes presided, and at the close, Rev. Edwin C. Shoemaker of Westfield Presbyterian church gave the benediction.

New Officers.

The new officers who were installed are:

President, Geraldine Fry, Central Presbyterian; vice presidents, Harold Workman, First Christian, and Gaylord Shaw, Flamingrove; recording secretary, June Campbell, Central Presbyterian; corresponding secretary, Olive Webb, First Presbyterian; treasurer, Ralph Newton, Bell Memorial.

Pastor counselor, Rev. D. C. Schenbly, Mahoningtown Presbyterian; floating department superintendent, Mrs. Margaret Weller, Mt. Herman Presbyterian; literature chairman, Robert Christie, Bell Memorial; citizenship superintendent, Mrs. McDowell, Rich Hill; evangelism, Rev. Andrew Koonce, Enon Valley; membership, Paul Wallace, Westfield.

Junior superintendent, Mrs. Myrtle Wilson, Reformed Presbyterian; leader, Harry Wilson, Reformed Presbyterian; missionary, Richard Pugh, First Presbyterian; music Rev. Griff Thomas, First Congregational; quiet hour superintendent, Mrs. Evelyn King, Bessemer; social and recreation, Louise Davies, First Congregational; dramatics, William Houck, First Christian; and publicity, Kenneth Gaston, Covenanter.

County commissioners who have inspected the Cherry street bridge situation have found that the river is doing more damage than was at first suspected. There is danger of its cutting a new channel unless something is done in the way of erecting a concrete wall or some other obstruction. It has also been suggested that the channel be dredged. As soon as the high water subsides an engineer from the waterways commission may be asked for an opinion as to the best method of preventing further damage.

Testimony in the case of the People's National Bank of Ellwood City, against Bessie P. Martin, executrix in the estate of the late Charles A. Martin, of Ellwood City, has been written out and filed at the prothonotary's office. The case was one based on notes given in the bank. The verdict was in favor of the plaintiff for $4,984 and a new trial was asked by the defendant.

Dr. R. B. Greer, of Butler, candidate in this congressional district for Republicans to the national convention for the nomination of a presidential candidate, and Frank Wigton, former county detective of Butler county, were visitors at the court house yesterday. They were piloted around by County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland and met county officials and a number of attorneys.

The Pennsylvania Revenue Department now has a man at the court house checking up the mortgages and notes of record in connection with the collection of the one mill state tax. The check up is for the purpose of determining if all persons who hold mortgages have made returns. The time for making these returns has been extended until the last day of this month and Register and Recorder William R. Hanna has been kept busy making them out. When he makes out the state return he sends the taxpayer to the county commissioners' office, where similar returns have to be made, upon which the county tax is four mills. Several hundred thousand dollars upon which returns have not heretofore been made, have been returned to the county commissioners' office. Many of those who make returns claim that they did not know that they had to return money at interest.

When is a slot machine a gambling device and what is the difference between a gambling machine and a vending machine? This question was raised at court yesterday during the sentencing of two defendants who had been arrested at Hillsville for running a gambling device. The men who had been arrested claimed that the agent who had put the machines in their places of business had assured them that it was legal to operate the type of machine which he controlled. The machine was operated with a penny. For the penny the operator got a ball of chewing gum and there were certain prizes, such as a box of cigarettes, for lucky plays.

During the discussion of the case Judge Chambers said that he had seen machines of somewhat similar type in some of the local stores, and that he knew that there were various types of machines in many stores in New Castle. If these machines are illegal, then they should be eliminated. The distinction between a gambling machine and a vending machine seems to be in the "chance" element. If the prizes are given when certain lucky numbers are struck, and there is no skill required, then it is a gambling machine. If the machine simply wins candy, chewing gum or some other commodity and gives the operator a fair value for the money which he puts into it, then it may be classed as a vending machine.

There are scores of machines of one kind or another in the stores of this city. The proprietors, in most cases, believe them to be legitimate. It would seem that in all fairness to the merchants there should be some place, either at the district attorney's office or at the mayor's office, where the information as to whether or not the machine he is operating is a gambling machine. The merchant is entitled to this information. Then, if the machine which he is running is classed as a gambling device, and he continues to operate it, knowing it to be such, he has no excuse when brought into court. The representations of agents who sell or rent these machines may be made in good faith, but if they are mistaken as to the meaning and intent of the law, the merchant should know where he can get the correct information before he is put to unnecessary expense.

The dividing line between a "legal" and an "illegal" machine seems to be very narrow, and a clearly defined statement by someone in authority might help to clear up a puzzling situation, and give the merchant a clear idea of just where he stands.

NEW CASTLE-FRANKLIN BORO PLAY TONIGHT

Semi-Finalists In Western Area Eager For Battle

Beaver Falls High Floor Is Scene Of Contest, Starting Time Is 8 O'clock

STATE TITLE BID GOES TO WINNERS

Whether or not New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" basketball team represents Western Pennsylvania in the state finals playoff on Saturday night, April 4, will be determined tonight at the spacious Beaver Falls high floor, when New Castle and Franklin Borough, a suburb of Johnstown, tangle. The game will start at 8 o'clock. Only once before in the history of New Castle high has a floor team reached the spot the Phil Brindenbaugh tossers possess tonight.

The New Castle boys do not intend to miff this chance. Any team that has the fight and courage to upset a mighty fine Butler high team, a great Rankin team and a scrappy Sharon high quintet must have the necessary qualities of champions. Franklin Borough will give Pa New's sons a stiff battle tonight. The way those "Bluejays" ran through that highly rated Allegheny high team was pathetic. The manner in which this Cambria county team went beserk against Boswell high for a 27 to 25 victory is another proof that the Franklins have it. It is going to be one of the toughest engagements of the year for the locals.

Look For Battle.

Franklin depends a lot on three of its stars, the Buchan brothers and the dusky King. Against Allegheny high these three boys were the outstanding performers. King is especially adept at dribbling and cutting.

The prize that dangles before the eyes of the schoolboys is the chance to play for the state championship. Something that generally happens once in the life of every coach and every high school team. It's a great honor to play for the state crown and the New Castle boys, led by that bundle of dynamite, Domenick "Jay" Covelli, intend to fight their hearts out tonight to bring the coveted honor to the capital city of Lawrence county.

Carlin Anxious.

Johnnie Carlin is rarin' to get in the game tonight. He didn't stay in the Sharon game long enough to break a sweat the other night until Referee Yans Wallace had him out on four personal violations of the rules and by-laws. So, Carlin is planning to make up for his inactivity tonight. It would not be surprising if Franklin Borough throws a few monkey wrenches into the New Castles. There is just a hint of over-confidence in the team for this game, and there is absolutely no occasion for the boys to think that Franklin high is "soft". If the boys will just get this out of their heads and play their regular game tonight, all will be well.

Loaded For Bear.

Franklin Borough will come to Beaver Falls tonight to shoot the works, loaded for bear. To Franklin it is a great honor to meet New Castle for the semi-finals of the state title play. There is a big incentive for the Cambria countians to come through. They intend to fight it out with New Castle basket for basket and shot for shot. Covelli and Adams will have their hands full watching these Buchanan brothers. Both are dangerous men. Of course the Buchanan brothers had better keep an eye on Covelli and Adams, too, because this pair has been stealing the thunder of the forwards in the past tourney games with long looping shots that count for two points.

"Dal" Mumford, after his exhibition against Sharon the other evening, will be a "marked man". So will this boy Carlin with 19 points against St. Marys high, but that doesn't bother either of these two boys.

Good Support.

Indications point to a fair sized crowd for the game. The ticket sale here has not been any too lively, many people preferring to wait and see what kind of a night it is going to be. New Castle high will have a lot of faithful followers on hand when they trot out there on the hardwood court.

Tickets can be bought here in New Castle for 75 cents up until 5 o'clock. The admission will be $1 at the gate in Beaver Falls.

Probable Lineups.

Following are the probable lineups:

New Castle	Franklin Boro
Carlin	F. D. Buchan
Mumford	F. M. Buchan
Strasbaugh	C. Markovic
Covelli	G. King
Adams	G. Mastovich

Because he failed to play in an exhibition game after he had been booked to appear at Chattanooga, Jerome ("Dizzy") Dean was fined $100.00, by Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball.

St. Paul's Win Class A Title

First M. E. Passers Are Badly Outclassed In Title
Contest, 28-15

GRIEF-SCHAAS SHARE HONORS

St. Pauls basketball team today are champions of the Class A church league following their scintillating defeat of the First M. E. quintet, Friday night on the Y. M. C. A. floor. The final score 28-15. The new champs were never in danger of being overcome. The St. Pauls representatives grabbed a comfortable lead which they held throughout. Paced by Grief and Schaas, the Pauls romped off the hardwood at the half with a 16-4 margin. Grief continued his fine performance with a pair of field goals and a foul in the second half. Despite the lopsided contest, the game proved thrilling.

This marked the first year of competition for the St. Pauls who were impressive throughout the season. The St. Pauls captured the title as a result of winning two straight out of a possible three. Grief and Schaas were outstanding for the winners. Grief split the nets for 10 markers while Schaas sent the sphere through the nets three times and converted three foul shots. Smith and Lockley proved the best bets for the First M. E. passers.

The St. Pauls are also known as the Eintracht team which finished second to Youngstown in the western Pennsylvania-eastern Ohio Saxon league. Considerable credit for the success of the team is due to Coach Norman Buckingham.

Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Ray Mangrum, Pittsburgh, tied for first in North-South open golf at Pinehurst and will stage play-off for title.

Peggy Wattles, Buffalo, won Augusta Women's Invitation golf tournament at Pinehurst.

There's nothing in the code, however, that says they have to keep going along.

The only question about the in-field is whether Jackson's legs aren't ready to buckle a little and how well Whitehead will stand up in the hot months. It has the league's best first baseman in Terry, but the colonel himself is so unimpressed that he has hired an understudy, Sam Leslie. Then there's Mark Koenig to fill in for Whitehead at second, Jackson at third or Dick Bartell at shortstop. But Marcus is no day to day ball player; he's just an old fashioned filler-inner.

Depend on Jackson.

Therefore, Jackson will have to play 125 games for the club to have a chance and, in this connection, I must state that I'm considerably upset to find Charley English and Joe Martin back here again, to say nothing of a gent called Frank Miller, a free agent. Charley and Joe somehow remind me of the spring. So do the hives.

The catching, Gus Mancuso and Harry Danning, is quite all right, but I'm wondering how the colonel ever came up with a couple of colonels named Clarence Anderson and Theodore Duay. They may be tops in the end, but I can't think the start has ever been made yet.

Nor can I fathom the colonel's pitching. He has two great pitchers, Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, and one good one, Clyde Castlemore. Then you stop and it may be that, in the end, the club will stop with you.

Fred Fitzsimmons gave every indication last year that he was getting finished; Al Smith seems always on the point of being good but never quite making it, and Frank Gabler and Harry Gumbert have yet to prove that they belong.

Not Impressive.

That's the reason I can't understand the Coffmans and the Marberry and the Dreisewards, not to forget William Jeffcoat and John Leonard, a couple of losers from Richmond in the Piedmont league. They even have a man named Howard Sipper who won none and lost three for Richmond.

I trust that Col. Terry will not let this outburst spoil his breakfast porridge, especially since he points out that Smith will come on, Fitzsimmons will come back, etc., and that he is reliably informed that business is business.

To me, it looks like a southern squad on which they'll save a little money. In fact, the only thing they'll probably lose is the pennant.

Mr. Coffman still has possibilities but, so far, they've all been bad.

I've thus accounted for 11 of the 15 with one dodger, one never-right and a bevy of young gents who do not figure to be ready. Neither does Steve Kuk, former Colgate backfield man, who hit .244 in the Nashville outfield nor Clem Dreisewerd, a left hander, whose record is 3 and 3 in the Nashville pitching box.

Whitehead At Second.

That leaves two, Burgess Whitehead, from the Cardinals, and Jim Ripple from Montreal and, of course, both are set—Whitehead at second base and Ripple as the No. 2 extra outfielder. The No. 1 extra out-

AROUND CITY HALL

Enabling legislation is enroute through councilmanic channels whereby a program of street paving will get under way this spring. City Engineer Glenn Throop stated today he does not know the exact date when the work will actually get under way. Bids for materials have been asked. The first paving with a bituminous top will be in one of three thoroughfares, Englewood avenue, Chartes street or Raymond street.

Council has passed all legislation necessary for the presentation of eight acres of ground to the state for an armory here. Should the state not go through with the armory proposition the ground will revert to the city. The armory, according to reports, will be built in such a way that various affairs can be held there. The armory will be under the jurisdiction of the local troop.

Arrest of a young man on a charge of suspicion, who is alleged to have had a quantity of Marahua and weed in his automobile, recalls that for more than a year local police have endeavored to get some trace of the drug here. There have been reports now and then of the sale of Marahua in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. The man arrested yesterday said the Marahua was given him by a friend and he did not know it was a prohibited drug.

It is nearing the time when people will want to get into their yards and stage a spring cleanup. Many are looking forward to the removal of tin cans from their properties. Years ago a Tin Can period was arranged. Cans were placed on sidewalks. The plan did not work out well. The cans were scattered around before they were collected. No doubt some announcement concerning the tin can collection will be forthcoming from Councilman Rice.

The city now is suffering from mistakes inherited, according to Councilman B. F. Butler, who, in commenting on backing up of water into cellars, claims the material used for some sewers was of a breakable nature and many sewers are too small for present day purposes. Swift water in local streams also has held back contents from the sewers, he reports.

Police activities during the past week have been slow. Only 10 automobile collisions have been reported during the past week. None was of a serious nature. No recommendations have yet been made for a public fire alarm. The city has been free of holdups since Chief of Police John F. Haven staged a coup on the South Side.

Canneries Aid State Farmers

Twenty Million Dollars Worth Of Products Are Purchased

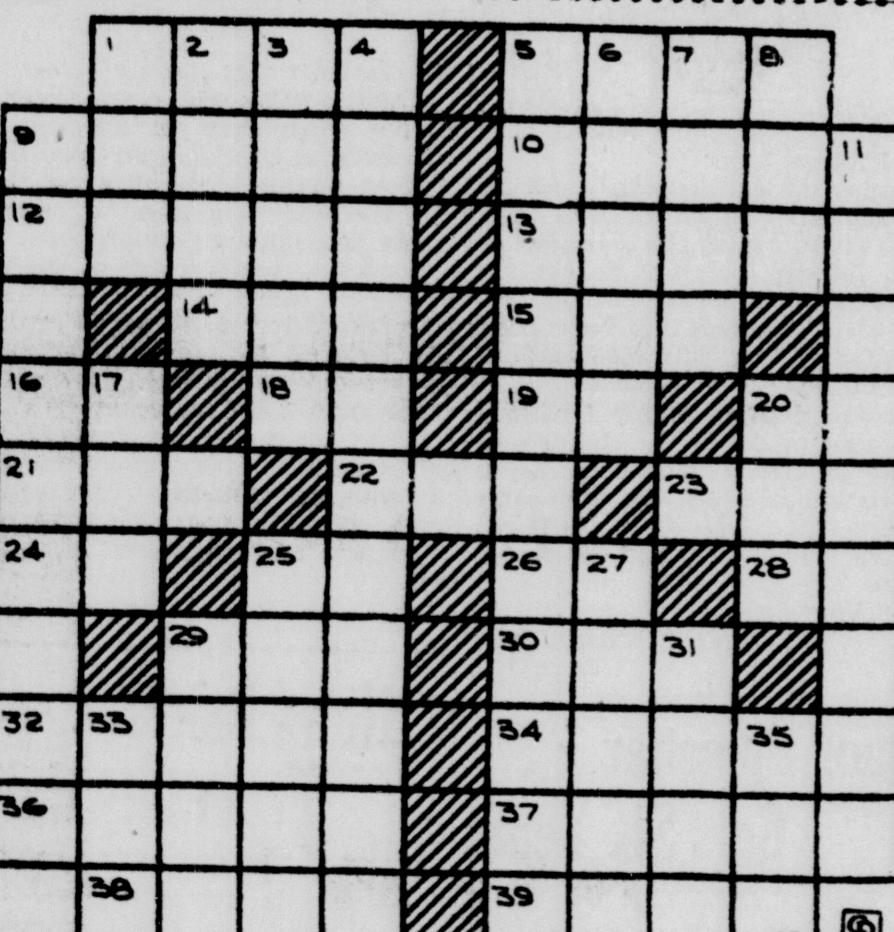

HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Canning crops last year netted Pennsylvania fruit and vegetable growers $20,000,000, the greatest cash income ever received from this source.

The rapid growth of the canning industry in this State since 1929 is partly due to improved crops resulting from the grading and standardization work of Federal-State inspectors. J. Hansell French, Secretary of Agriculture, explained.

In 1929 Pennsylvania cannery workers buying only 13,487,955 pounds of graded Pennsylvania grown products. Last year they purchased 102,734,487 pounds.

Six years ago the graded products the cannery were buying were apples, grapes, green beans and tomatoes. This list has been augmented by cherries, corn, grapes, peas and berries.

Recovery Plans At Sharpsburg Are Discussed

Hope To Soon Restore Normal Trade Activity To River Community

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 28—Business and professional men of Sharpsburg today planned to unite their forces in a reconstruction program to restore normal trade activity to their flood-stricken community.

At a public meeting called by the borough council and held in the borough building a plan for a complete recovery program was adopted.

Maurice R. Reddy, assistant director of disaster relief for the Red Cross, told the gathering that his organization would give some help to the hard-hit "one-man businesses" and would aid those without means in restoring their homes.

Edward B. Michalowski, council president, told home owners the WPA workers would clean the mud and debris from their homes if they would request such service.

SUNDAY SERVICES

The services of the First Presbyterian church for Sunday March 29th are as follows: Sunday school 9:45; P. W. Griffin superintendent of adult division; Frank B. Beale of the primary department; Community Bible class 10; morning service and sermon at 11; Junior Christian Endeavor society at 6:45 with Miss Alice Ann Nord as leader on the topic of "When Did Jesus Pray"; Evening service and sermon at 8. Rev. W. J. Engle, minister.

The services of the St. Anthony's Catholic church for Sunday are as follows: Mass at 9:30 in observance of the death of Robert Barr, 13 year old crippled school boy who died in a clinic dental chair while under the influence of an anesthetic.

The boy was rushed to a hospital when he failed to rally from the effect of nitrous oxide after three teeth were pulled by Dr. Leon F. Sargeant, negro dentist. An adenalin injection and other emergency measures failed to revive him. Both school and health officials expressed shock at the tragedy which occurred although the boy had been given heart tests before taking the anesthetic.

Belief was expressed that Robert's death may have been caused or hastened by some result of his crippled condition.

Dr. Alice Hamilton has saved the lives of thousands of people by specializing in occupational and industrial diseases. Dr. Hamilton was the first woman to be appointed to the Harvard faculty, and among the first physicians to specialize in occupational disease.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

I DON'T SUPPOSE I ever learn much merely making speeches—and perhaps those who listen to me don't. But I know that I do learn from the questions asked, especially when my questioner expresses disagreement with my answer.

It has been my privilege to conduct a great many institutes for parents in different parts of America and for different organizations. Approximately half my efforts are spent on leading discussion and in answering questions. Of course, one never can be sure that an impromptu answer to a question which does not give all the necessary facts involved, can be adequate.

Now let me give you the gist of some sample questions and of my answers, at one session of a three-day institute, which I conducted at Flint, Mich., recently. The average attendance was about 275—not too large for discussion.

Q: Would you withhold guns from children?

A: By all means, except, perhaps, after the child has been trained under careful supervision in the use of them. Even then, other children not trained, may be in danger while near the trained child with a gun.

Q: Should child be allowed to play with the furniture?

A: If he has learned to be careful, and never to jump on furniture, nor stand upon it. Teach children "No rough house."

Child Not In Bed

Q: You leave your three-year-old with the instruction that he should go to bed at a certain hour, and find, when you arrive home at 10, that he is still up.

A: Get a better person to leave him with, capable of taking your

Pennsylvania Students Will Have Opportunity To Compete

HARRISBURG, Mar. 28—Announcement of Pennsylvania's desire to participate in competition for thirty appointments to internship training in the Federal Government for the academic year 1936-1937 has been made by Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of public instruction.

This competition, which is sponsored by the National Institute of Public Affairs, is designed to select the thirty most promising high school graduates throughout America for the current school year, so that they might be enrolled in the new school established by the Federal Government for the purpose of preparing young people for careers in public affairs.

Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of public instruction, will send a list of approximately thirty names representing the picked young men place entirely and assuming authority. Don't hold courts on arriving home.

Q: How can you deal with the child who habitually comes to the table unwashed and uncombed?

A: Announce to the child there will be two calls for dinner. At the second call he is supposed to be there and ready, and if he isn't there let this be the cost to him: to sit in a chair for 15 minutes several feet from the table while the family go ahead, and they should have a happy time.

Q: How can you get the father to the table on time?

A: In our family we had it understood that neither of us parents would hold the children to anything we would not hold ourselves to. Children expect us to be on the square with them.

Q: What about older children teasing younger ones?

A: The cause of this usually is jealousy. Do more to help the older one gain more satisfaction through achievement, which he will count worthy. Of course, in some extreme instances, we have to step in to protect the "under dog." But we cannot expect permanent relief until the jealousy is reduced.

Q: How may the use of slang words be corrected?

A: If you and dad use good English and enjoy with the children a joyous family atmosphere, you can afford to ignore the problem and expect it eventually to disappear.

Q: What can be done for the child who would rather play with younger children?

A: She can lord it over them. Attack it from the skill side. Do all you can to help her develop her play skills, and to get satisfaction with those of her age—at best a slow, uphill job.

of the State to represent Pennsylvania in this project. The department proposes to select these men through the medium of the forthcoming annual state scholarship examination, which this year is designed to determine the most competent students in Pennsylvania schools from the standpoint of general mental ability and capacity for learning. This adds an additional premium to the value of the state scholarship selections this year.
